Revenue Agent Lucas Stirs Up Things at This Place.

PAID $694 TO SHERIFF.

Many Doubt His Authority and Refuse to Pay.

Like some grim monster seeking whom he might cause trouble, Revenue Agent Frank A. Lucas haunted the county clerk's office for a week and a half waiting for his victim to whom he had sent notices to come in and pay alleged back taxes. Many of them came and handed over their little wad of greenbacks for economy's sake, but about 175, backed by the opinion of Auditor Hager, refused to come down with the sponduil until the question of Lucas' authority to collect goes through the courts.

Before leaving Mr. Lucas paid to the sheriff $694 due the county as its share of the collections made by him. He also filed suits to the number of about 175 for taxes on mortgages not given to the county assessor for several years past.

We learn that a member of the legal fraternity of this city disagrees with Auditor Hager as to Mr. Lucas' authority to collect taxes on mortgages and that the court of appeals some time since handed down an opinion in the matter, in which it affirmed that a deputy has a right to assess under special orders from the State auditor only, but has no right to collect save where he has secured a judgment in court for the State. One of our statutory lawyers, who has had occasion to look fully into the matter, gives it as his opinion that Mr. Lucas had no right to make the collections he received here, as the law says only the sheriff shall make collections for taxes. The law in the state in regard to the collection of taxes on mortgages seems to be very unjust, as in many instances both mortgagor and mortgagor pay tax on the same property--of course a double tax. The General Assembly should afford a remedy.

NEW ELECTION COMMISSION

Judge A. R. Burnam and Charles R. McDowell Chosen.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 1—Gov. Beckham yesterday afternoon announced the appointment of the Hon. Chas. R. McDowell, of Danville, Democrat, and Judge A. R. Burnam, of Richmond, Republican, as members of State Election Commission. The recommendations on which the appointments were made were handed in by Chairman McQuown of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Chairman R. P. Ernst, of the Republican Committee.

YOUNGER SET

Have a Pleasant Reception Tuesday Evening.

Miss Mary Clark entertained the Junior Set's Music Club at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Clark, on South Main street Tuesday evening. The club consists of eight or ten of the "future belles" and these members and their escorts were in the receiving line. About fifty guests enjoyed the occasion. The pretty lawn was illuminated with Japanese lanterns. Refreshments were served, consisting of ices, cake, etc.

MILITARY DRILL
TUESDAY NIGHT
BIG SUCCESS.

Chappell, Roper and Hadden Won the Three Prizes.

A NICE SUM NETTED.

Entertainment Wound Up With an Enjoyable Dance.

Between 300 and 400 people attended the entertainment given at the Armory Tuesday night by Co. "D." All the officers and men entered into their part with an enthusiasm that furnished those present with a good deal of pleasure and amusement.

Sergeant James Chappell won the first prize as the best drilled man in the company. This prize was $5 in cash. Sergeant Chappell was heartily congratulated for his fine work. He has been an enthusiast ever since he joined the company and richly deserves the prize he won.

The second prize of $3 was awarded to private Wallie Roper as the second best drilled man. Mr. Roper's knowledge and execution of the manual caused him to strongly contest Sergeant Chappell, and during the execution of the drill it was hard for an outsider to guess which of these two gentlemen and Corporal Hardy Hadden would win out. When Corporal Hadden was declared the winner as the third best man the opinion was almost unanimous that Maj. E. B. Bassett and Adjutant C. H. Tandy were correct and a friendly feeling prevailed among the military boys and those in attendance.

The silent drill was one of the most interesting drills and exhibited the wonderful precision in handling their arms Co. "D" has attained and aroused a feeling of pride in our home military company.

"Storming the fort" was watched with great interest. Our people have seen this in the circuses that have been here during the past two years, and were surprised to see our home boys accomplish a feat that almost equals that of professionals.

The funny part of the evening was something not on the program. This was the "blanketing," and the boy that was tossed in the air like a ball does not care to furnish amusement again for a crowd in the same way.

Equal praise is due the entire personnel of the company for the manner in which they acquitted themselves, but First Lieutenant E. W. Clark deserves special mention for making Co. "D" one of the best drilled companies in the State. He is at present the only commissioned officer in the company and for months has been patiently training the men and managing the affairs of his company.

As a grand finale to the evening's entertainment the young people enjoyed a dance until late into the night.

We are glad to learn that the proceeds of the entertainment netted the company a nice sum, which will be applied to incidental expenses during the encampment at Paducah.

The reputation of Cincinnati as a festival city will be ably maintained
this year by the holding of an exposition at Music Hall Building, under the auspices of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Exposition Association, which has for several seasons conducted such enterprises in the east with notable success. The most up-to-date methods known to festivals are being employed for the present venture which has already secured a numerous class of exhibits not only from Cincinnati itself, but from various outside cities, thus enabling the visitor to have a glimpse of the latest methods of the world at large. The date of the Exposition is one that appeals especially to all classes of people, from September 11th to 23d inclusive,
when the coolness of the autumn season and the rains of summer duties are concluded. Special excursions will be run into Cincinnati

heavy co-operation of the railroads
has been promised to the enterprise, which will be without a rival in the way of industrial expositions.

one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages,

Catarrh being a constitutional dis-

murderer is Also Involved With Company.

Guthrie, Ky., Aug. 2.—Nothing has been learned in regard to the Luster murder case. It is reported that P. J. Luster was involved in his accounts with the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company, but this cannot be relied upon, and there are several rumors as to the amount.

It is also claimed that he was a cocaine fiend, and it is probable that while under the influence of this drug he committed the crime.

A number of people claim that he had been addicted to this habit for a long time.

On Wednesday Luster got a sleeping potion from the druggist to make his wife sleep, but it failed to have the desired effect, so on Thursday he got another prescription, and it is supposed he gave her some of this to make her sleep soundly so he could do his deadly work.

Mr. Jas. Ray, a railroad employee, says he saw Luster get on the 5 o'clock northbound train Friday morning.

NOTED PACERS

And Trotters Now Quartered
on Fair Grounds.

The Kentucky and Tennessee fair
at Guthrie promises to be one of the greatest events of the kind ever held in this part of the state.

Demands for catalogues and blanks are coming in not only from the states of Kentucky and Tennessee
but from the states of Indiana, Illinois,
Missouri, Alabama, Louisiana,
Georgia and Virginia.

The mile track is in record breaking condition, having been especially prepared, at great expense, by an experienced track and high class horsemen.

A number of noted pacers and trotters are now quartered in the stables on the fair grounds.

The Kentucky and Tennessee Fair
Association belongs to the Southern Fair Circuit, and gained a big advantage to its many patrons by being the first to give an exhibition
this season.

The date of the fair is August 17, 18 and 19. The first day being "Dark Tobacco Growers' Day" will bring together the largest crowd
ever seen at the Guthrie fair.
The admission has been offered free liberal premiums on horseback and arranged for some noted speakers
to be present to address the Tobacco Growers on the evils of the trust, and the necessity of the farmers standing together as one man in this great fight, which means either prosperity or starvation to the thousands of honest farmers in the "Black Patch."

Special arrangements have been made with the L. & N. for reduced rates.

Clarksville, Tenn., July 31.—The members of the Dark Tobacco Grower's association held a rousing meeting here today with an unusually large attendance. Reports from the different chairmen showed a decrease of at least 20 per cent. from last year's crop. Encouraging news was received from the sales of tobacco controlled by the association and the farmers seemed more determined than ever to win their fight. Chairman Polk Prince read a report on the errors in the report of the tobacco acreage sent out by the Agricultural Department and Secretary Wilson was criticised for refusing to give out the names of reporters from Clarksville and Hopkinsville. By a unanimous vote the Chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to memorialize Congress, urging them to demand a thorough investigation of the Agricultural Bureau and expose the false reports sent out to affect the tobacco market in the interest of the trusts.

A motion approving the suggestion of marking up prices on tobacco and discontinuing sales for the present was carried by a large vote.

Bassett's Big Sale.

The big sale of Bassett & Co., which continues through the week, opened yesterday morning. At the opening hour a large crowd gathered round the front door waiting for a chance to get first choice of bargains. The crowd was so large that it was necessary to admit customers by sections.

Hurricane Off St. John's—Decks and Mast Ice-Coated—Ship Springs a Leak—Captain Destroys Schooner

A fierce wind shrieked over the schooner Amanda, sailing from Newfoundland. On the bridge, clad in oilskins, stood Capt. Fitzgerald. Beside him was the mate. An anxious look rested on both men's faces. Before them the sea rose and fell, white-capped, heaving mass, and dark clouds moved swift across the sky.

Sails reefed to their fullest, the Amanda rushed forward. The waves bore down upon her, and hurried them against her side.

Off St. John's the gale became a hurricane. The thermometer sank low in the bulb, and the wind, in the rigging, froze instantly, covering the spars and rigging with a thick icy coat. On deck the ice lay a foot in thickness. Huge masses hung from the bridge, and the railyards bent under the weight.

A cry arose. The carpenter rushed to Capt. Fitzgerald. His face was white. In quick, short words he told of an awful discovery. The ship had sprung a leak!

The pumps were quickly manned. All night the men labored.

Morning brought no hope. There were now four feet of water in the well.

On board the ice now weighed many tons. All form of ship had vanished. It looked almost like an iceberg.

Hopelessness marked every countenance. With the water in her hold dragging her down, and the ever-growing ice pressing heavily on the deck, the ship lay on the verge of foundering.

Realizing the desperateness of their plight, the crew gathered the vessel to the lighted Anchors were cast, overboard, cables, even the cargo, in the effort to raise her a few inches higher in the water.

On the fifth day of the storm, when the crew were almost ready to throw themselves down and let Fate work its way, a long black cloud appeared on the horizon. The ship had sighted a large vessel approaching, moving rapidly through the waves.

"I succeeded in finishing this, and throwing it over the edge before the Fool-Killer gets to me, I hope it may fall into the hands of some one who will publish it as an awful warning to people who are smarter than the law allows."

"My intemperate indulgence in investigation is what has brought me here, where, cheered by the yeats of the man who on earth left open the door to me now has his head sternly shut into the door and await 'em coming into the Fool-Killer."

"Throw investigation and invention to the dogs! I adjure you, and quit seeking to pry into the future, or, some day the ruler of this dread realm will get you by the surplus skin of your neck and jerk you from happiness into misery."

"I was an inventor. I was far from being a pretender like Keely. For a time I invented with impunity, and nothing befel me. Made reckless by continued success, I accomplished that which eclipsed all my previous efforts. I have no time to go into details. Sufficient to say that I foolish with forces that I had not, and succeeded in overcoming gravitation as Keely's etheric force overcame man's resistance to humbug and made them come down with the ducats."

"The invention, which, for want of a better name, might have been called a gravity eradicator, was packed in a valise. All I had to do was to grasp the handle, touch a spring, and up we'd go."

One day they climbed over the ice-covered bulkheads and slid down to the little hatch that lay toasting at the stern. Only Capt. Fitzgerald heated. A thought was in his mind. He dare not leave his ship—a derelict, drifting in the track of many ocean liners. The schooner must be destroyed.

Without a word he turned on his heels, and descended to his cabin. In a few minutes dense volumes of smoke poured from the beaches.

Then the captain joined his com-

THE FIRST ONE.

I was a girl when I was young. A girl I dared not try to kiss. Our love was shy and found no tongue. But eyes told tales we could not miss. The years have stretched a little now, and I have a tongue that is not shy. And I have kissed with deepest yow. And kissed before I knew 'twas done.

And that first girl I never met. After her initials called me head; And when she was gone, I was left.

When some one told that she was dead,

Yet there it is; she is the one.

The only one of women all.

Now that the list is closed and done,

It is the only one of women all.

Only last night she came to me,

Still often came, and why and sweet,

And then I learned what life might be.

—Dream-drawn I sought my sweethearts.

To I had my head upon her breast;

Within that hove reached at last.

There came no echo save of rest,

From all the life-long weary past.

To each poor dog his day, were told;

Of dreams that circled, forgot of old;

Careless my head against her breast.

A STRANGE MANUSCRIPT

BY TOM P. MORGAN

SOME time ago, a popular publication placed before its readers the story of "The Strange Manuscript Found in a Copper Cylinder."

While its startling revelations were only to be read with bated breath and breath on edge, its disclosures must needs outlast long, however, in a dark and dreary thrill of the strange manuscript found in a sardine can.

While strolling in his garden the morning after the great storm, Prof. Bolivar Woodhead discovered a queerly marked sardine can wrapped and tied in a cloth of strange hue and texture.

Upon prying open the can the process was to sleep even there, were it not for the proximity and awful groans of the man who, upon earth, used to occupy two seats in the crowded cars, keeping tired travelers out by sheer force of his dignity. His dignity avails him but little now, for they stand him on his head as soon as the sun goes down, and there he stays till morning.

"It is pretty hard to sleep in the daytime, on account of the punishment that is inflicted upon the 'Beautiful Snow' posts. Every morning they are chained in a row, and a reader, with an accentless but stentorian voice, reads over and over to them their

'Beautiful Snow' posts.

On the other hand, the 'Silvery Moon' posts

get only half as much, and, in the afternoons, are allowed to rest and re-

cup for the next day's reading.

"The midnight serenader is hung up in a cage close to the top of the highest tower, and must sing every night and all night. The songs he used to sing had nothing to do with his lady fair, and everybody who has nothing else to do throws old boots and clubs at him.

"The man who said: 'I told you so!'

has been hung. Always in life a kicker, he is still kicking as he swings.

"Weather prophets are tied in pairs and flung over a great clothesline to fight."

"A band composed of bassoons and bas drum, with a few tom-toms and jim-jams, has been organized, and puts in ten hours per day in serenading the people who used to play the fife and drum. Hand-organs are stale at sight."

"People who only planted when 'the moon was right' are kept on a diet of skinned water."

"The airship and perpetual motion cranks occupy cages next to mine. The washing machine inventor has the en-trire laundry work of the kingdom to do."

"Every day a committee takes out the man who, on earth, was a sort of walking collection of ills, for which he was always doping or dosing himself, and they proceed to fill him to the muzzle with the latest fads in pills

and nostrums."

"And so I might go on all day telling the details of the punishment

that befalls the Fool-Killer, but the time is past when I can do more.

—McClure's Magazine.

—WILLIAM BIGSMITH."

After he had finished the strange manuscript found in a sardine can,

Prof. Woodhead locked himself in his den and pondered over it.

He then went down into the woodshed

and carefully cut up into kindling wood

his elaborately constructed machine

for making whistles out of pig tails.

He had cheated the Fool-Killer!

A hotel which cost the builder $13,000 six years ago, at Keene Falls, Wash., has been sold for $200,000, and the number of town lots were sold at from five cents to $5 each. The sale was made by the county commissioners on foreclosure for delinquent taxes, and marked the end of a boom town.

New Orleans, Aug. 2.—Although there was an increase in the number of deaths from yellow fever yesterday, the health authorities do not appear to be disturbed by the fact, claiming that this was naturally to be expected. They still seem sanguine of their ability to control the epidemic and claim that it is likely to prove a good thing for the city.

KENNEDY LETTER.

Kennedy, Ky., July 31.—A little folks of this vicinity have had a nice time this last week. All of the little misses and messrs. of this vicinity were present. They enjoyed themselves very much.

PACIFIC SUGAR PINE

A TREE COMPARABLE TO WHITE PINE OF EAST.

Grows Along Western Slope of Sierra Nevada. Used for Everything for Which White Pine is Available—Second Growth.

Few users of wood know that on the Pacific coast there is a vast quantity of lumber comparable in all essential qualities with the best grades of white pine ever produced. This lumber is furnished by the sugar pine, a tree commonly found along the western slopes of the Sierra Nevada mountains in California. Even when compared with the giant "big trees" with which it often is found, the sugar pine is not a puny tree, but frequently reaches a diameter of ten feet and a height of 150 feet. The tree has been known to yield 54,000 board feet of lumber, and trees smaller than 18 inches in diameter are seldom

PRESIDENT R. E. COOPER

Declines to Notice Unofficial Communications of the C. T. & T. Co.

The telephone controversy has about subsided. Mr. R. E. Cooper, President of the Home Company, when seen yesterday, said:

"When the recent scurrilous attack on the Home Company was made a month ago, I started out to fix the responsibility on the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co. This has at last been done, despite the statements of Messrs. Caldwell and Hume that the writer of the letters was not in their employ, so far as they knew. The confession of the writer himself that he was an employee of the rival company doing business in this county, has made the motives apparent to all. Whenever Messrs. Caldwell and Hume wish to propound questions themselves, their communications will be duly noticed. I shall dismiss the matter, by reaffirming that the books of the Home Telephone Company are open to the inspection of the stockholders, or any responsible gentleman interested in learning the financial standing of the company, at the office of the Treasurer, Mr. J. F. Garnett, President of the Planters' Bank & Trust Co."

The work of putting in the McKenzie exchange is progressing satisfactorily and the line to Clarksville will soon be completed down the Clarksville pike.

The Home Company is also pushing its long distance line northward and has already secured a franchise for Hanson and expected to get one for Madisonville last night.

CHURCH WEDDING.

Mississippi Marries Young Woman of Near Lafayette.

Mr. T. M. Whetstone, Jr., of Greenwood, Miss., and Miss Etha Bayham, of Rose Hill, Tenn., were united in marriage at the Methodist church at Lafayette last night. The Rev. A. G. Freed, of Montgomery county, Tenn., performed the ceremony, in the presence of a large number of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Miss Sophia Bowling, of Guthrie, was maid of honor. The ushers were Messrs. Ed L. Weathers, Scott Winn, Lou Lican and Nick Bayham, the last named being a brother of the bride.

Immediately after the marriage Mr. Whetstone and his bride came to this city for Washington, D. C., where they will spend a month before going to their home in Mississippi.

The groom is a prominent young lawyer and leading business man of Greenwood. His bride is a daughter of Esq. Alex Bayham and a niece of Mrs. C. H. Bush, of this city. She is quite pretty and very popular.

GOING WEST

And May Decide to Locate in California.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stowe, of this city, will leave for the Lewis and Clark Exposition to-morrow night. After spending a few days at the fair they will go to Redlands, California, to visit the family of Mr. Ed. Stowe. Mr. Stowe recently sold his firm of 350 acres, near Julian, to Mr. E. D. Jones for $19,000, possession to be given January 1, next. His visit to the West is in the nature of a prospecting tour and he may decide to locate on the Pacific coast in the near future.

Having had the biggest sale this year ever made by any firm in Hopkinsville, we were encouraged to order five cars more, later than we usually buy, for the months of August and September.

On this sale we will, on account of the low price we obtained, sell Buggies, Surreys and Phaeton at $5.00 to $20.00 each less than they have ever been sold in the city. Purchasers residing in Todd, Logan, Hopkins, Trigg and Caldwell counties, Ky., and Montgomery county, Tenn., will have their railroad fare both ways paid back to them, upon presentation of this coupon. This sale will continue until October 1st, 1905.
